HALL-McDOUGALD.

Last Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock, Miss Isabel Hall and Walter E. McDougald were married at the home of the bride's mother on Zetterover avenue.

Only the relatives and intimate friends were present. There were no attendants. Miss Ruth McDougald played the wedding march and Mrs. Charles B. Mathews sang "Because."

Dr. Hal R. Boswell of the Presbyterian church performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in a hand-carried away suit of blue champagne with accessories to match and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies. She is the eldest daughter of Mrs. W. L. Hall and is an accomplished young woman of great charm of manner.

Mr. McDougald is a man of fine business ability, a splendid citizen and universally popular.

Mr. and Mrs. McDougald left immediately for a wedding trip through the North.

JOLLY FRENCH KNOTTERS.

Mrs. E. T. Youngblood and Mrs. Samuel Terry were lovely hostesses to the members of their sewing club Thursday afternoon at the attractive home of Mrs. Youngblood on College boulevard. FOR BRIDE-ELECT.

The first of a series of lovely parties that have been planned for Miss Lucy Blitch, whose marriage to Mr. Cecil E. Kennedy will be an event of November 12th, was the reception and miscellaneous shower Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. Bruce Olliff and Mrs. Frank Simmons as hostesses at the beautiful home of their mother, Mrs. J. E. Doneho, on Savannah avenue.

Mrs. J. O. Johnston greeted the guests, they arrived and presented them to the receiving line, which was formed in the spacious reception room. In the receiving line were Mrs. Bruce Olliff, Mrs. Frank Simmons, Miss Lucy Blitch, C. B. Mathews, and Miss Georgia Blitch.

Mrs. J. G. Mays directed the guests to the dining room, where a delicious salad course was served by Mrs. S. Edwin Groover, Mrs. Pete Donaldson, Mrs. Hillis and Miss Annie Smith, with Mrs. W. H. Simmons presiding over the table.

The tea table was overlaid with an exquisite lace cover and had as its central decoration a silver basket of pink and white chrysanthemums. Bon-bon dishes filled with pink and white mints and four silver candlesticks holding pink and white tapers were placed at intervals.

Mrs. Cecil Brannen, Mrs. Harvey Brannen and Miss Umana Olliff entertained the guests in the gift room, and on departing little Miss Fay Foy gave little French dolls as favors.

DYER-WILLIAMS

Douglas, Ga., Oct. 25.—A wedding of cordial interest to many people throughout the state was that of Miss Annie Eugenia Dyer to George S. Williams, formerly of Statesboro.

The ceremony was solemnized at the Presbyterian church Thursday evening at 8 o'clock by Rev. E. W. Winn of Fitzgerald, the ring ceremony being used.

Preceding the ceremony, a short musical program was rendered, in which Miss Sarah Holland Hesters of New Bern, S. C., sang "Because," Mrs. Nell Burns rendered "My Heart as Thy Sweet Voice" as a violin solo, with Miss Marie Ward, accompanist. Miss Hesters then sang "Until," Lehigh's Wedding March was used as a processional, Mendelssohn's as a recessional, and during the ceremony Liszt's Liebestraus was softly played.

First to enter were the ushers, M. H. Purvis and J. D. Crab, followed by the matron of honor, Mrs. D. L. Shackelford of Miami, sister of the bride. Next came the maid of honor, Miss Dorothy Dyer, another sister of the bride.

Immediately preceding the bride and her father, W. H. Dyer, who gave her away, little Miss Virginia Vickers entered as flower girl, scattering rose petals. The bride was met at the altar by the groom on the arm of his brother, J. L. W. Williams of Savannah, acting as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams left that night in his car for their wedding trip to points in Florida. Her going away gown was a tailored model of navy blue. On their return they will live at one of the Stubb's apartments on Gaskins avenue.

The bride is one of the most popular young women of this section, and her many friends are glad to know that her marriage does not take her away from Douglas. She studied at Brenau several years.

Mr. Williams is a travelling man and has many substantial friends throughout the state.

GENERAL PRESENTMENTS OF OCTOBER TERM GRAND JURY

MATTERS OF GENERAL NATURE TOUCHED UPON IN REPORT UPON ADJOURNMENT.

We, the grand jury chosen and sworn for the October term, 1924, beg to submit the following report:

We recommend the following with reference to the pauper list:

That Charles Anderson be paid $3.00 per month, placed in hands of H. S. Parrish.

That E. J. Bowen be paid $5.00 per month, placed in hands of W. Only Anderson.

That Henry Sheffield and wife be paid $5.00 per month, placed in hands of Dr. J. M. McElveen.

That Wilson Horne and wife be paid $5.00 per month, placed in hands of E. M. Womack.

That James Hume be raised from $5.00 per month to $7.00 per month.

That Mrs. Julia Wise be paid $5.00 per month, placed in hands of W. L. McElveen.

That Mrs. Margaret Bragg be paid $3.00 per month, placed in hands of Mrs. J. D. Blitch.

The committee appointed to examine the books of the notaries public and justices of the peace, W. L. McElveen, A. O. Bland and J. H. Bradley, report as follows:

We, the committee appointed to examine books of justices of the peace, find them correct except the following:

Books of M. M. Pennington, justice of peace for 1716th district, fails to enter costs in proper column.

Books of E. D. Holland, notary public for 1209th district, correct except failure to enter G. M. district number and to total costs.

Books of W. M. Hodges notary public for 1340th district, correct except failure to total costs and enter G. M. district number and style of cost.

Books of H. B. Kennedy, notary public for 41th district, correct except failure to total costs.

W. L. McELVEEN,
A. O. BLAND,
J. H. BRADLEY,
Committee.

The committee appointed to examine court house and jail of Bulloch county, W. G. Raines, J. E. Saunders and L. O. Rushing, report as follows:

We, the committee appointed to examine the jail and court house find both buildings will be in good repair as soon as the work now in progress is completed.

W. G. RAINES,
L. O. RUSHING,
J. E. SAUNDERS,
Committee.

The committee appointed by the April grand jury to examine the books of the various county officers and report to October term grand jury, have done so and their report is hereto attached and marked "Exhibit A."

The committee appointed by the April grand jury to examine the change have done so, and their report is hereto attached and marked "Exhibit B."

We recommend that all jurors, both superior and city court, and all bailiffs be paid the sum of $3.00 per day for their services.

We appoint B. A. Trapnell, J. W. Robertson and L. M. Mallard as a committee to examine the various books of county officers, and recommend that they receive the sum of $10.00 per day, and that they report to the April term, 1925, of Bulloch superior court.

We appoint J. E. Doneho, L. O. Rushing and B. C. Lee a committee to examine the change, and recommend that they receive $3.00 per day for their work, and that they report to the April term, 1925, of Bulloch superior court.

We unanimously recommend that the county commissioners of Bulloch county put in operation the Ellis Health Law, by the employment for full time of a competent health officer, operating under the provisions of said law for a district to be composed of Bulloch county.

There having grown up steadily throughout our county an apparent disregard for the Sabbath, it is the sense of this body that the situation requires to be dealt with firmly yet without undue harshness upon those who may be innocent of intention to violate the law. To that end we recommend that our county commission

PROMINENT VISITORS AT GA. NORMAL TODAY

ROUSING MEETING TODAY TO ACQUAINT PUBLIC WITH THE WORTH OF THE SCHOOL.

A rousing meeting was held at the Georgia Normal school today at which the Statesboro Advertising Club was the nominal and the school itself the real host to more than 40 prominent citizens throughout the state, principally from the section adjacent to and served by the Normal.

Included in the list of prominent persons present who made addresses were Senator W. F. George, State School Superintendent Fort E. Land, I. S. Smith, state school supervisor, Superintendent of Chatham County Schools Gibson, D. G. Bickens of Morning News, V. G. Bette of the Savannah Press, Senator- elect H. B. Wilkinson and former Senator W. D. Kennedy, both of the 49th district, and others of the members of the legislature from near-by counties. Hon. R. S. Slaton, of Statesboro, also gave voice to his endorsement of the school and the things for which it stands.

The meeting was presided over at the outset by S. W. Lewis, retiring president of the Advertising Club, who introduced the new president, Howell Cone, who assumed charge and gave a forceful presentation of the accomplishments and requirements of the school.

The object of the meeting was to bring to the attention of the law makers and other leaders the real importance of the school and to call attention to the necessity for an appropriation for enlarged facilities. The entire sentiment was heartily in favor of the school, and there remains no doubt that the meeting will prove fruitful of results.

The only changes in the line-up above from the election of four years ago is the return of Tennessee and Oklahoma to the Democratic ranks, and the loss of Kentucky, which was carried by Coolidge by a small plurality.

In Texas Mrs. Ferguson was elected governor over her Republican-Klan opponent by a majority approximating 150,000. In New York, Al Smith, the Democratic nominee for governor, defeated Roosevelt, the Republican nominee, by around 140,000. New York at the same time gave Coolidge a plurality of around 800,000 over Davis for president. Wyoming elected Mrs. Nellie T. Ross, Democratic, governor by a small majority.

And this is the way the voters of Bulloch county expressed themselves at the polls Tuesday as between the national nominees of the opposing parties.

For the state and county nominees the voting varied only slightly, running as high as 1022 in one instance, but averaging around 1020 for the Democratic nominees. H. G. Aaron, candidate for Congress on the Republican ticket, received 39 votes—two more than Coolidge, his running mate.

While Bulloch county was standing loyally to the Democratic party, the people of the nation were overwhelmingly doing the other thing. As a result, according to present indications, Coolidge leads Davis by approximately 10,000,000 votes, having received 18,000,000 against 8,000,000 for Davis and 4,000,000 for LaFollette. In the electoral college, as now appears, Coolidge will have 378 votes, Davis 136 and LaFollette 13. Davis has carried Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia; LaFollette carries Wisconsin, and the others have gone for Coolidge.

BOYS OF OTHER DAYS.

Older Statesboro residents will agree with us that a boy didn't cost much in the days gone by. A pair of corduroys, a cotton waist and a 10c pair of suspenders made a wardrobe that came in handy for a dollar. If he ate a great deal he did not run up a doctor bill. A stone-bruise or a bad case of sunburn were ailments that never cost his father a cent. He didn't have to have a dollar's worth of a valve and sterilizer to hang every time he went out and stashed his too.

We was of some help about the place, too from the time he was 7 years old, and when a father, he used the checkerboard table cloth at supper time the evening before his son's hanni, gave a few words of advice, and some day we may regret it. Yet men who make a study of crude oil are not inclined to worry. They have faith in the bounty of old Mother Earth, giver of so many gifts. And we have faith in the bounty of the boys of other days. We want to believe that they will have a cheap substitute ready the minute that the world's gasoline supply does give out.

Uncle Sam's new 16-inch gun will hurt a ton shell 35 miles. Wouldn't they be fine to deliver coal with, the cooling dust of a country road, with the rising sun bringing another bunch of freckles to distribute over his face, has missed something out of boyhood he can never put back. Today the world gives a lot to boyhood, but when we think of the boys of yesterday and then compare their joys with those of the boys of today we can't help feeling that at the same time the world is giving them much it is withholding still more.

TOO MUCH HOARDING

In conversation with a banker friend recently he stated that careful estimates place the wealth of this country that is hidden away in socks, old trunks, and clocks at $400,000,000. That vast sum is being hoarded by people who do not work, money not working and not earning a cent of interest. But he says there is no need to worry over it, since for every one hoarding there are six in saving deposits in this country and that this ratio is growing higher every year. Each year sees more Statesboro people putting money in bank than the year before, showing they are coming more and more to realize that banks can be trusted and that money hoarded is like having a hired man who persists in sleeping all the time. People who realize that money is safer in a bank than where it can be burned up or easily stolen. As a result the banks are growing bigger and the poorhouses smaller, and the rising generation is learning that the man who banks every spare dollar he gets isn't the kind that helps fill the poorhouse.

CHOOSING THE JOB

There was a time when Statesboro parents spent the long winter evenings in deciding the future of their off springs. Johnny would be a teacher, Mary a trained nurse, Bill a minister, and so on. But it's all different now. The schools of the country guide their destinies and shape the young man or woman into the position for which they are best suited. It is a part of the fine education that is becoming more perfect every year. Today the boy with an aptitude for mechanics does not study for the ministry just because his parents wanted him to be a minister. He doesn't attend an agricultural college, either, if he feels a natural bent for law. There was a time when he had certain studies and couldn't take any others; he was limited and had to make the best of it. Today a boy or girl can take a course in any trade or profession under the sun, and tell within a short time what they are best suited for. All of which should make those among us who have children thankful that they have greater opportunities than we enjoyed when we went to school.

We've noticed that some fellows have a wonderful memory until a few minutes after there are put on the witness stand.

"DOLLAR GASOLINE."

Not very long ago there was fear of dollar gasoline in this country. But today it would sound more sensible to talk of ten-cent gasoline, for instead of growing scarcer the fuel has been constantly growing more plentiful. Instead of getting dearer it has been getting cheaper. We have just read a government report to the effect that figures gathered from 50 towns and cities in as many sections of the U. S. show an average price of 15c a gallon.

If the Statesboro citizen who has contended that the day of the auto is soon to end unless a substitute can be found for gasoline will read up he will find that he is wrong. As old oil fields and pools play out, new ones are opened. There have been rich oil strikes this year in regions where they were not expected, and there is probably far more crude oil in the world than has ever been estimated. At any rate the drillers and refiners net as if the supply was inexhaustible. Low prices do not check them. They keep right on increasing production at a time when the market is glutted. That consumers are doing all they can to help them in the fact that the United States is using 20 per cent more gasoline this year than it used in 1922.

Millions of gallons are wasted, of course, and some day we may regret it. Yet men who make a study of crude oil are not inclined to worry. They have faith in the bounty of old Mother Earth, giver of so many gifts. And we have faith in the bounty of the boys of other days. We want to believe that they will have a cheap substitute ready the minute that the world's gasoline supply does give out.

Uncle Sam's new 16-inch gun will hurt a ton shell 35 miles. Wouldn't they be fine to deliver coal with, the cooling dust of a country road, with the rising sun bringing another bunch of freckles to distribute over his face, has missed something out of boyhood he can never put back. Today the world gives a lot to boyhood, but when we think of the boys of yesterday and then compare their joys with those of the boys of today we can't help feeling that at the same time the world is giving them much it is withholding still more.

Luck doesn't always mean inheriting money. Look at the Statesboro man whose last year's overcoat is good enough to wear this year.

There's only one way for a woman to find out how homey she'll look in bobbed hair—and she generally takes that way.

We heard a Statesboro man say yesterday he doesn't believe in capital punishment because it's hard to find a man who is worth hanging another man for.

Of course the auto helps some, but old Worry still continues to be the undertaker's best friend.

If the saloons hadn't been driven out of the country where they would have found room to put all the filling stations?

When the average Statesboro man gets past 50 he spends his time worrying over rheumatism and how fast the country is going to the dogs.

Since most family quarrels begin at the dining table, why not cut it down to where we'll only eat one meal a day.

Never judge a man by the sleepy look in his eyes. Maybe he got a new station on his radio the night before.

All experiments being tried and the evidence all in we guess there is no surer way to make a Statesboro man mad than to tell the truth about him.

According to our own private "straw vote" turkey and cranberry sauce are going to sweep the country late in November.

Some of old-fashioned men who used to sneek out behind the barn to smoke corn-cob cigarettes now have daughters who ask them for a match to light real ones.

It's always a good idea to carry a little time insurance. No telling what time your wife will take a notion to raise the roof off the house.

CARD FROM TAX COLLECTOR
On account of delay in the book, I will be able to make but two rounds under the sun, and tell within a short time what they are best suited for. All of which should make those among us who have children thankful that they have greater opportunities than we enjoyed when we went to school.

Slats' Diary
(By Ross Farquhar.)

Friday—Uncle Hen was up to see me to supper tonight. I all ways like to see him about because he is about the only man I can't with still continues to drive a horse and buggy. And he says now he will let me buy a machine with his self a machine and let him what kind of a machine he was going to by if he bought a machine. He said he had been looking at the cars which are getting to be several in sum parts of the United States. But from what I see of them they all ways looked like they were so full of fakes.

Saturday—I wonder how long it is going to take to let the kids know I'm coming. I told her I was going to see the Lone Wolf she gets all excited up and went out and told me she better look after me for I was starting to begin running to the pond brookers.

Sunday—Had a fine ride over to the eastern part of the state where are cuzzens live. They are a girl amongst are cuzzens about 20 yrs. and I guess she is one of the most popular girls there for she says her secret ingagement is the talk of the whole town.

Monday—Mrs. Penny witch is are warth woman has lost another husband. Ma as her was sick very much during his life time and she assered and said that was when he had all his sickness a proximate. Then they both of them left him. Then Mrs. Penny sat at her husband was sick a hole lot of times but the last sickness was the serious sickness he ever had. To her nolidge.

Tuesday—In are language class today we had a lot of leavations to work out like they tell you part of them and you got to guess the rest of the balance. 1 of them was like follows—Marry in hants and repent I sat pa if he new what it was and he said he goss the rest of it must of went this way. Marry in hants and repent in Reno. The answer was incorrect.

Wednesday—drove the ford out to Uncle Hens tonite and he was a showing us his hunsen dogs. He shone me 1 of them and I at what kind was he. Uncle Hen said it was a Pointer and the brown 1 is a Dispointer.

Thursday—Ma says Mr. Gillem is honest with his self every ways. Pa bit and says why so, and ma replied in return. Well he says he all ways gets his hair cut off on Saturday so he will look good over the week end. She seems to have a idea that all men are like that.

We are now located between Trappell-Mikell Co. and Jones & Co. where we would be pleased to have all of our old friends and customers as well as new ones call on us at any time. J. E. BOWEN. (30oct8tp)

Old Folks' Ailments
"I began taking Black-Draught over fifty years ago and my experience with it is that it is the best medicine I know of for old folks' ailments. A good many years ago, in Virginia, I used to get bilious and I found that Black-Draught was the best and quickest relief I could get. Since I came to Texas I have been bilious almost every now and then—a little Black-Draught and you know—and I find that a little Black-Draught straightens me out. After a few doses, in little or no time I'm all right again. Black-Draught is a purely vegetable liver medicine, used in America for over eighty years. It acts on the stomach, liver and bowels in a gentle, natural way, without hurting digestion and relieving distress. Sold everywhere. E-102 (4sep21c)

FARMER DISCUSSES NO-FENCE PROBLEMS

Suppose we had no range what ever, would it be necessary to continue the fence law at great expense only for stock to tear into our fields and destroy what we made? We are not supposed to wait till the range is absolutely bare here to adopt a stock law. To do this would be foolishness of the rankiest sort.

The range is so nearly eaten out now that it isn't worth the time, labor and expense of keeping up miles of fence merely for the sake of stock running out and going half starved.

As farming conditions change, farmers must change their methods. We cannot hold to unnecessary expense when every year brings forth new pests which must be fought, not alone with muscle, but with money as well.

The stock law must be voted in sooner or later. Anyone who admits that it would be better to vote it in a little too soon than too late. It is up to the farmers to vote it in now and save themselves increasing annoyance.

Adopting a new law is somewhat like taking a dose of disagreeable tasting medicine. If it is swallowed right down it is found not only not to be disagreeable but beneficial as well. If the stock law is adopted now it would be found not only not to have so many bad features but we should probably wonder why we had not voted it in sooner.

An individual needs medicine, he needs it whether he realizes the need of it or not. If Bulloch county needs the stock law now, it needs it whether one-fifth of the farmers realize it or not. Not even unanimous opinion could change the truth of the situation.

In conclusion, permit me to say that new laws are made necessary by changing conditions. Every needed law is a remedy. A sick man never gets well merely by saying that he doesn't need treatment. If a person got well this way, there would be no need of doctors or drug stores. Moreover, if you need treatment today and put it off a week you will suffer a week longer than you ought to suffer.

If Bulloch county needs a stock law now and will save five years to vote it in, let them suffer from the evils of the present law five years longer than it ought to suffer from them.

FARMER.
Next Sunday night, Nov. 9, at 7:30 P. M. (fast time), will be held at Eureka church, the last preaching service of the conference year at this point.

The pastor, H. P. Langlois will preach on "The Life of David." It will be a stirring evangelistic sermon. It is the result of many months study and prayer.

Special music for this service. We are very anxious to have you come and worship with us.

ANNUAL W. M. U. MEETING
OGECHEE ASSOCIATION
The 1924 meeting of Ogechee Association W. M. U. meet with Statesboro Baptist church Oct. 12-14. Mrs. A. E. Woodward, superintendent, presiding. A number of visitors were recognized at the first session, among them Rev. J. P. McGraw, field worker, Mrs. E. K. Overstreet, district vice-president and Mrs. Laura Patrick, district secretary, all of whom gave helpful and inspirational talks during the sessions.

Mrs. Woodward's report showed some growth in our work having a W.M.U. in practically every church in our association and a better spirit of cooperation from pastors and laymen of church toward W. M. U. work than has ever been seen. Mrs. Riggs, young people's leader, reported more Sunbeam bands than we have ever had.

The night devotionals were led by Mr. McGraw, using as his theme, "The blood of Jesus Christ has cleansed me from all sin." Miss Patrick then gave a very helpful address on "And there was a woman." The devotionals of the meeting were in the hands of the Sunbeams of the association, who gave a very interesting demonstration of how Sunbeams carry on their weekly programs.

FOR LITTLE FOLKS.
A delightful occasion for the little folks, was the Halloween party given by Mrs. P. G. Franklin, Oct. 31, in celebration of her little daughter Annetta's fifth birthday.
The lawn where the little guests assembled was decorated with Halloween symbols. Paul Franklin, Jr., was very amusing as a spook.
A table was placed under a tree holding the birthday cake with five candles brightly burning. Miniature pumpkins were given as favors.
Misses Sarah Hall and Elizabeth Sorrier assisted Mrs. Franklin in serving cake and cream.
About fifty little friends were present.

SOMETIMES.

(W. T. GRANADE.)
Sometimes I go out at night an' walk around
An' look about,
Th' twinklin' stars up in th' sky
Look down on me
I almost shout!
I try to think I'm a listen' an' a lookin' at th' night
The starlit blue;
But to tell th' truth dear, deep down
I'm a-lookin' for you!
Sometimes I sit an' listen to the birds
Up in the trees
While they sing;
An' I hear th' cattle conin' home
Across th' hills,
An' up th' lane;
An' I try to make myself say: That's What I'm a-listenin' for,
But it won't do.
Instead o' that, dear, I'm a-dreamin',
An' a-thinkin'
An' a-listenin' for you.
Sometimes I hear th' old songs rich
An' mellow in th' twilight,
An' I rejoice,
But I find myself a-listenin' an' a-hurtin'
In' somehow just to hear
Your voice.
Because th' old songs are th' sweetest
An' love
I sing too,
An' while th' crowd's a-singin' Annie
Laurie, I'm a singin' an' a thinkin'
Of you.
Sometimes I think if I had lands an'
Piles o' gold,
I'd be satisfied;
An' like th' rich I'd travel up an'
down th' world,
In my pride;
There are a thousand things 'd please
me, so I think,
When I am blue,
But th' truth is: all that I really wish
Is you!
Aint it strange how all a fellow
wants, an' thinks,
An' dreams,
Is so quickly satisfied by th' real things o' th' heart
It seems.
There's one thing I know, whatever else may come my way,
This is true,
I'd be just th' happiest mortal alive
With you.

MASQUERADE PARTY

Among the pleasant festivities of the week was a masquerade Halloween party given by Miss Marion Shuptrine, in honor of her art class and the faculty of the High school Tuesday evening. The lower floor was decorated with yellow chrysanthemums, Halloween symbols and autumn leaves, the dining table being specially attractive with a large luck cake as a centerpiece, beneath a chandelier of black cats.
On either side guarding the entrance was a hideous spook. At the next doorway two witty clowns, in a clever manner, received the guests.
After the crowd assembled, a rabin cortest was enjoyed by all.
Then before the fun had a chance to simmer down, one clown ushered some around to the side porch to the hut of an old witch who told their fortunes in a very unusual and magic way, while the other one had great fun as door-keeper for the Queen of Halloween's room, where the guests, one at a time, appeared before the Queen to receive her blessing.
Then came the cutting of the luck cake, containing a ring, indicating early marriage; a thimble, single blessedness, and a dime, wealth.
A delicious punch, poured from a big stone jug, was served throughout the evening.
The refreshments, consisting of chicken salad sandwiches, doughnuts, gingerbread nummies and orange sherbet were passed informally. The favors were hand-painted witch's brooms.
Fifty-five guests enjoyed the occasion.

New Figures for Old

How the Madame X Girdle Reduces Waist and Hips
SLIP into the Madame X Reducing Girdle and see how it improves your figure. Not only makes you look thinner—but greatly manages away the disgusting useless fat from waist, thighs and hips. Made of pure, live rubber—the very kind prescribed by world famous athletic coaches, and worn by thousands of athletes for reducing purposes. As cool as an ordinary corset, in the summer than any other time. Worn over the undergarment instead of corsets. Just the thing for sport wear. Back lacing permits adjusting as figure becomes slender. Special open front gives perfect ease. Made of resilient Para rubber, with two pairs of garters.

GEORGIA METHODISTS ADOPT GOLDEN CROSS

NEW SOCIETY WILL CONTRIBUTE TO FUND FOR HOSPITAL WORK.
Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 11.—Plans are crystallizing in Georgia and throughout the country—wherever there are members of the Methodist church—for the annual enrollment period of the Golden Cross Society, a church-wide organization to foster and maintain hospital work. The Georgia campaign, as in many other states, will begin immediately after Thanksgiving and continue until the middle of December.
Joining the Golden Cross may be likened to joining the Red Cross or any similar organization, which has for its object the relief of sick and suffering humanity. The Golden Cross, however, uses all funds derived from membership fees solely in hospital charity work. The Golden Cross Society in Georgia will aid Wesley Memorial Hospital in Atlanta. In other states where hospitals are being built and assisted by the Methodist denomination, Golden Cross Societies will render similar aid.
Dr. C. C. Jarrell, general secretary of the General Hospital Board, of the M. E. Church, South, has just returned to Atlanta from inspection trip of Methodist hospitals and attending church conferences. He said today that construction work on hospitals in Texas and Alabama was going forward at a rapid rate. Other hospitals, one in Texas and another in Tennessee, which were well established and have been in operation for some time, are accomplishing great results, Dr. Jarrell said.
Wesley Memorial Hospital, which the Georgia Golden Cross societies will aid, is located on the campus of Emory University, in Atlanta, costing $1,500,000. Many prominent regard less of church connections or creed who are unable to pay their own expenses are aided through the charity work of the Golden Cross.
While the membership enrollment of the Golden Cross is largely confined to the Methodist church, Sunday schools and other organizations in the denomination, it is not limited to church membership or even the Methodist denomination. Any person, whether a church member or not, may enroll as a Golden Cross society member. The membership fees and dues going to the hospital fund. Hundreds of charitably inclined people are expected to join the Methodist movement in the campaign of 1924.

INTERESTING OLD PAPER WAS RELIC AT LATE FAIR

One of the interesting relics at the recent county fair was a copy of the Excelsior News dated July 4, 1879, being No. 48, Vol. 2, of that publication (which indicates that the paper had been in existence almost two full years at the time this issue was published). The Excelsior News was the first newspaper ever published in Bulloch county, and the editor was W. L. Gieger. The editorial heading carried this information: "The following named gentlemen are our special agents, and we trust all who are indebted to us will pay the amount to the first agent he sees or send it to us by mail: T. H. Potter, Esq., Rev. L. Price, Rev. J. A. J. Smith, Rev. A. A. Andrews, Rev. John Gardner, F. R. Tarver, Rev. W. M. Cowart, Rev. G. W. Smith, Rev. J. G. Norris, Peter Johnson, Esq., C. C. Gieger, Rev. W. D. Atkins, and Hon. H. M. Burch." The sub-heading on the front page read: "Devoted to religion, education and general interests of the country." If one may judge from the list of special agents, the religious feature of the paper was intended to predominate.
The News carried this interesting comment: "The weather is pleasant, the flies annoying, the mosquitoes terrible, the flies unreasonable, the people bilious and everybody complaining of hard times." How like somebody says in those good old days everybody was honest and there was no need for the courts. Witness this to the contrary: "Be Cautious. All persons are hereby forewarned from trading for a certain premium, because the people of other parts of the country and of other countries are realizing that Southern prosperity really is 'built up in sound and through development of natural resources.'"
As pointed out here today by business and industrial experts, particularly by Frank Hempstead, prominent business counselor, whose work carries him to all parts of Dixie, all America is watching the South. He says it is attracting attention as never before, because the people of other parts of the country and of other countries are realizing that Southern prosperity really is "built up in sound and through development of natural resources."
The South's natural resources are almost limitless," said Mr. Hempstead. "Its water power has no equal and its development is giving assurance that the south will have abundant power from its streams for industry as long as the streams run and civilization lasts. It is coal and iron mines are among the richest in the world and they are making the south the center of manufacturing activities in this country. Its lands are fertile and there are millions of acres under high state of cultivation and they are producing just what the world needs. Its climate is the finest on earth, enabling out-door work to proceed during practically the whole year."
Southern editors commenting on the boost given the south by the Canadian newspaper make the point that when friendly papers in neighboring countries call attention to the south's progress and prosperity, it is time for people in the south to realize more fully what they have at hand and to awaken to the possibilities around them for developing the resources so bountifully given to this part of the country.
and then sat down on his haunches paralyzed with fear, since which time he has been unable to rise."
The old copy of the News was loaned to the Times by Hon. Joshua Everett of Metter, for use at the fair, and was one of two copies which Mr. Everett of Metter, for use at the fair, years. Indeed, Mr. Everett's contribution to the town's county fair at Metter the week preceding that at Statesboro included among other things forty-four issues of Grier's Almanac for that many years past.

Texas and Wyoming Elect Women Governors

"MA" FERGUSON MRS. NELLIE T. ROSS

Two women, both Democrats—"Ma" Ferguson in Texas and Mrs. Nellie T. Ross in Wyoming—have been elected governors for the first time in the country. Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross was the Democratic candidate for Governor of Wyoming. She is the widow of Governor William B. Ross, who died on October 2.

CANADIAN PAPER SAYS "WATCH THE SOUTH"

SEES EVIDENCES OF PROSPEROUS ERA ABOUT TO BREAK OVER COUNTRY
Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 11.—"Watch the South!" advises a Canadian financial paper, to which attention is called by Atlanta business men, which paper sees in the amazing progress of the Southern states a competitor of Canada in a number of ways, yet the Canadian paper does not show just how only. The Canadian paper tells its readers that the industrial rebirth of the South "emphasizes again the prosperity that can be built up on sound and thorough development of natural resources."
As pointed out here today by business and industrial experts, particularly by Frank Hempstead, prominent business counselor, whose work carries him to all parts of Dixie, all America is watching the South. He says it is attracting attention as never before, because the people of other parts of the country and of other countries are realizing that Southern prosperity really is "built up in sound and through development of natural resources."

DELIVERIES OF PEANUTS SHOW MUCH INCREASE

Albany, Ga., Oct. 28.—Deliveries by members of the Georgia Peanut Growers Co-operative Association continue at an unusually satisfactory rate, according to officials of the co-op, which has its headquarters at Albany. Although the crop was fully two weeks later this year than it was last year, deliveries more than a week ago had passed the figures on record for the corresponding date of last year, and the week just passed had seen the margin increase. The ratio, in fact, is increasing every week, with indications of a record delivery before the end of the fall.
Payment in the shape of the first advance is still being made to the co-op's members at the rate of $65.00 a ton, despite the fact that the market is only $70.00 a ton. No, it's in some places, and only about $85.00 for top grade in the best centers. Deliveries are coming so fast now to the Peanut Association that it is called on to advance its members approximately $25,000 a day in fact, in increasing volume. Satisfactory financial arrangements have been made by the Association to take care of these advances, association officials declared, and the arrangements were made at a low rate of interest.
Not only are the old members of the Association turning their peanuts over to the association in volume, but many landed growers who had not previously aligned themselves with the co-op are coming in daily to fix their signatures to contracts of their own volition without being asked to do so. The organization of the association included quite a good deal of new material on the board of directors, the changes being made chiefly at the request of those who had served in the past. The new president is J. Barney Averitt, and the secretary is Lewis A. Akins. The directors are J. Barney Averitt, Lewis A. Akins, W. M. Hagin, B. B. Sorrier, Dan N. Riggs, J. D. Fletcher, Pete Donaldson, A. Dorman, Hinton Booth, F. C. Parker, G. Walter Bird, G. C. Coleman, M. H. Mottell, J. A. Addison and B. Turner.
The newly chosen officers are entering upon their duties which a determination to make the fair an institution of more importance in the future. It is planned to make changes in the grounds which will to the income producing power of the property, these changes including the building of a baseball diamond and grounds for sports of various kinds. The livestock buildings will be torn away from their present location and room will be made for them in the rear of the agricultural and ladies' buildings. The grandstand will be put in repair and the grounds will be fitted up so that a better view may be had of the racing events from there. The ball park will be in the level plot directly in front of the stand. The park will be thus popularized and some little income will be derived from various sporting events which will be held there.

FAIR ASSOCIATION HAS ANNUAL ELECTION

REPORT FOR YEAR SHOWS EIGHT FAIR WAS OPERATED AT SLIGHT PROFIT.
The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bulloch County Fair Association was held Saturday, at which time a report of the year's operations was submitted by the secretary and directors were chosen for the coming year.
The report showed a slight profit from the recent fair, the outstanding indebtedness having been reduced by approximately $200. The receipts from all sources were around $5,000, something like $3,000 of which represented gate receipts. Because of the inclement weather on the last day, Saturday, there was a very small attendance; however the rain insurance offset any loss from that source, there having been received $500 on account of rain.
The stockholders decided to hold the fair two weeks earlier the coming year in order to avoid conflict with the session of superior court. It was also voted to discontinue horse racing and substitute automobile racing as a drawing card. It was made apparent that the expenses of the races, including purses and preparation of the track, had amounted to considerably more than the total gate receipts on several days, which was conclusive proof that the races were not only not a paying feature but were actually run at a loss.
The reorganization of the association included quite a good deal of new material on the board of directors, the changes being made chiefly at the request of those who had served in the past. The new president is J. Barney Averitt, and the secretary is Lewis A. Akins. The directors are J. Barney Averitt, Lewis A. Akins, W. M. Hagin, B. B. Sorrier, Dan N. Riggs, J. D. Fletcher, Pete Donaldson, A. Dorman, Hinton Booth, F. C. Parker, G. Walter Bird, G. C. Coleman, M. H. Mottell, J. A. Addison and B. Turner.

NEGRO HIGH SCHOOL DESTROYED BY FLAMES

Two buildings belonging to the Statesboro High Industrial colored school and used for the classes, were destroyed Monday night by fire which originated about midnight. It was in the second story of the old building that the flames were first discovered, and the building was so far gone that the fire extended to the new structure before it could be brought under control. Though the fire department quickly responded to the call, both buildings were destroyed. The dormitory on the same lot, and standing only a few yards from the old building, was saved.
William James is head of the school and has been for the past twenty years or more. He has given much effort to the building up of a high school which is a credit to the community, having received liberal aid from many northern sources as well as from home friends. Though the loss of the building has proved a severe blow to his work, he has not been thrown off his feet and will begin at once plans for the rebuilding of more modern structures. The school is under the city school system and the new building was erected prior to November 1. This compares with 12,698 for the corresponding period of last year, a gain of 8,796.

GIN FIGURES FOR NOV. 1

Gin figures for the county, compiled by M. R. Olliff, reporter, show a total of 21,944 bales ginned prior to November 1. This compares with 12,698 for the corresponding period of last year, a gain of 8,796.

FINE SPECIMENS OF NUTS FROM WARNOCK'S ORCHARD

A basket of very fine pecans was presented to the Times today by J. W. Warnock, whose orchard is near Prentiss and comprises 500 bearing trees. There were seven varieties in the lot, and represented the very best. Mr. Warnock will gather 2,500 pounds the present year.

ADVERTISING CLUB TO HOLD REGULAR MEETING FRIDAY

The regular meeting of the Statesboro Ad Club will be held tomorrow (Friday) at the Jackel Hotel. At this time, which is the first meeting since the reorganization, the new officers will outline plans for the coming year's work.

HUNTING PARTY

A party composed of Rev. W. T. Granade, Elder W. H. Crouse, John Everett, J. B. Cone, Henry Cone, C. P. Olliff, Deight Olliff, Aubrey Olliff, C. M. Call, W. S. Peritorious and S. W. Lewis spent a few days this week on the coast at Beaufort.

ORGANIZING AGRICULTURE TOBACCO CROP IN BULLOCH

Considerable activity is reported in the organization of tobacco growing throughout the county. E. Q. Crombie, recently from Jeff Davis county where he had experience in the growing of the crop, has been signing up acreage for a club of which he will be supervisor, and is reported to have something like 200 acres on his list. Others have club under way. It is said, and the prospect is good for five or six hundred acres in the county the present year.

ARTIFICIAL LIGHTS INCREASE WINTER EGG PRODUCTION

Experiments during the past three years at the State College have demonstrated that artificial lights, used properly, will greatly increase winter egg production and thereby increase profits.
By lengthening the day by the use of lights, the hens are allowed time to consume a greater amount of food and therefore make more eggs.
There are three methods of using light to make the day twelve to fourteen hours long, according to J. H. Wood, professor of poultry husbandry at the State College and in charge of the experiments with artificial illumination. The first is to turn on the lights at four A. M., and allow them to remain on an hour. The second method is to use light from six A. M. and keep them on in the evening until eight o'clock. The third, called "the evening lunch method," and which has proved the most popular in the eastern states is to turn the lights on at eight in the evening and allow them to remain on until midnight.
At the College the first method has been used, and it was found that birds under light laid from thirty to sixty per cent more than birds not under light.
Prof. Wood advises the use of lights on either pullets or hens when the object is market eggs, but says they should not be used on breeders until the breeding season, and they are not generally needed in Georgia at that time. It takes about two weeks for lights to effect egg production.
